Work in Progress

Tracks of Division: The Effects of Standard Gauge Railways on National Identity in Kenya

- Employed a difference-in-differences approach (DiD) and GIS methods to identify the effects of Kenyan Standard Gauge Railway (SGR) on national identity
- Third Prize in the Excellent Paper Award of the Harare Forum for Africa

African Socialism and State-building in Kenya: The Origin of Harambee Movement during the Cold War

- Leveraged a process-tracing method and historical archives to examine the genesis of Harambee movement in Kenya, emphasizing the social realities surrounding national independence distinct from "proxy war"
- First Prize in the Excellent Paper Award of the Fudan University Postgraduate Forum (Guowu Luntan)

Democracy or Ethnicity? The Impacts of the Devolution Reform on Public Goods Provision in Kenya

- Utilized critical case analysis in Kenya to assess the influence of the Majimbo movement, specifically the devolution reform in 2010, on the provision and quality of public services
- Awarded Excellent Grade for Term Paper in the "African Politics and Society" Course

Master's Thesis

The Effects of Railway Upgrading on National Identity in Africa: Evidence from Kenya and Nigeria

- Employed public opinion data from Afrobarometer and developed an original railway dataset, including colonial-era meter gauge railways (MGR) and new-built standard gauge railways (SGR) for Kenya and Nigeria
- Utilized a difference-in-differences (DiD) approach to examine the causal relationship between railway upgrading and national identity, finding the effects are context-specific
- Thesis defense awarded an Excellent grade

Undergraduate Thesis

Embeddedness and Coaptation: Strategic Development of Supply and Marketing Cooperatives in Rural China

- Utilized a critical case of supply and marketing cooperative (SMC) in Hunan Province to examine state-market relationships, and analyzed the case through the lens of Granovetter's embeddedness
- Argued that SMCs' development is not only related to the embeddedness but also their own coaptation, thus forming bidirectional interaction between state and market, particularly after 1978
- Awarded the Excellent Undergraduate Thesis of Hunan Normal University
